LOCAL NEWS.

A LAWYER CHARGED WITH FELONY.—It was stated in yesterday's Gazette that lawyer E. A. Williams, of Washington who had come here as counsel for two men confined in jail, had been arrested while at dinner at the Mansion House in consequence of a telegram received by the Chief of Police from F. L. Bancroft, of Washington, charging him with felony. At four o'clock, the prisoner with volunteer counsel appeared at police headquarters, where he controverted the legality of the arrest, stating "that he was assured by the best authority that such an arrest could not be sustained, and that his friend Dick Harrington, Assistant District Attorney of Washington, would agree with him were he to be consulted." Capt. Webster quietly informed him that he was now in his charge and that he should be taken good care of; at which the counsel became so violent in his manner and so demonstrative in his actions that he had to be ejected from the room and hustled down the steps in a most unceremonious style. Soon afterwards the prosecutor appeared, accompanied by his counsel, Capt. D. L. Stuart, and the prisoner having employed new counsel, Mr. Mashbach, the case was examined, and the prisoner discharged, though he had made a raise upon the pretense of having money deposited in bank in this city.

RUN AWAY.—The two horses attached to the feed wagon of Mr. Augustus Wall, became alarmed while standing at the door of a store on King street, between Columbus and Washington this morning, and started off at a furious gallop down the street. The driver, a colored man named John Toliver, ran out of the store just as they moved and seizing one of them by the bridle, notwithstanding the manner in which he was tossed and pitched and jerked about as the team plunged its way along among the cross ties and stringers with which the street is lined, maintained his hold until the wagon became uncoupled and he brought them to a halt near the St. Asaph street depot, unhurt.

THE CIRCUS.—Times change and men change with them, but the attractions of a circus are as great now as they ever were. At least three thousand people of all ages, sexes, and conditions were at the exhibition last night, and all of them, and some were among the oldest and most staid and sober-sided in the community—were apparently as much pleased with the performance as they had been when they saw the same things as children, long years ago. There was a little unusual excitement last night, caused by the backing and falling of one of the performing horses among a portion of the spectators who had seats near the ring, but no one was hurt.

CORNER STONE LAYING.—In addition to the Masons from Loudoun county and Alexandria who will be present at the laying of the corner stone of the Masonic Temple at Hamilton on Wednesday next, 18th inst., the members of Hiram Lodge of the Order of Washington, have expressed their intention of accepting the invitation that was sent them. About one hundred, with Prof. Gross' band, of Georgetown, will join their brethren of this city in their proposed visit. The attention of the order here is directed to an advertisement in another column of to-day's paper.

VICE PRESIDENT OF THE W. C., V. M. & G. S. R. R.—The Directors of the Washington City, Virginia Midland and Great Southern Railroad, at their meeting in this city, yesterday, unanimously elected WILLIAM G. CAZENOVE, ESQ., Vice President of the Company, a position which Mr. C., from his known ability and experience, will well and faithfully fill. None of the gentlemen connected with the management of the road have taken a deeper interest in its affairs, or labored more energetically for its ultimate success, and the trust thus bestowed is well deserved.

INCENDIARY ATTEMPT.—During the absence of the family of Mr. Henry Coxen, who were at the circus last night, an attempt was made, by an unknown and even unsuspected person, to fire that gentleman's house, southeast corner of Payne and Cameron streets. People passing by saw the flames, just as they were beginning to spread, and extinguished them without occasioning any general alarm. A lighted candle had been placed between the weather boarding and the plastering on the lower floor, and a space of about one foot had been burned when the flames were discovered.

Agnew, 4,025 tons; by Hampshire and Baltimore Coal Company, 1,785 tons.

POCKETS PICKED.—The watch chain of Capt. D. G. Meade, of the Plains, was cut while that gentleman was purchasing a ticket at the circus ticket wagon last night, and his pocket picked of a valuable gold watch, a reward for the return of which has been offered, as will be seen by an advertisement in another column. TELEGRAPH NEWS.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

General Sherman and the Modocs.—NEW YORK, June 14.—Gen. Sherman had a conversation with a reporter last evening, and is made to say of General Davis, concerning his indictment of Captain Jack and the preparations for hanging him and some of his associates, "If the statement is correct there is no doubt that General Davis must have exceeded his duty, and he would have been held responsible for his acts. He should be guided by military rules and the law. We all know they are murderers, the President himself says they are murderers, and had Gen. Davis shot them while they were being pursued I do not think he would have exceeded his duty. He did not do this and could not afterwards shoot them in cold blood. General Davis' report to Gen. Schofield, Gen. Sherman said, may differ from that published in the papers. Davis is too experienced an officer to do anything that would bring odium upon the army, or lay himself open to military court-martial for exceeding his duty as an officer. The General thinks there will be no difficulty about disposing of the Modocs under arrest. Those found guilty of murder will be hanged or shot, and it is proved there was an agreement for a general uprising among the tribes others will receive some punishment as a warning to the Indians. He remarked, however, that it was a pity that the guilty Modocs were not shot at first; then all this commission business and expense would have been avoided. As to the killing already of a few prisoners, Gen. Sherman says that those who committed the deed are low blackguards and murderers who had nothing whatever to do with the army."

Wm. J. Holland, of this place, was a faithful orderly and courier for Gen. Lee during the late war. He has not been forgotten. Mrs. Lee, the widow of the General, during her recent visit to this place, sent him, in token of remembrance for his services, the photographs of the General and herself, with a note of thanks. Of course he prizes them very highly, as not only reminiscences of the times that tried men's souls, but as proof that he is not forgotten by those who cherish the memory of the illustrious chief and regard those who did their duty to him when duty was most desirable and most welcome.

The moonlight excursion of the steamer Georgetown last night was a very agreeable affair. About one hundred persons were on board, all of whom expressed themselves highly pleased with the trip. Cook's string band furnished the music, and the refreshments served by the steward were excellent. DIED.

Of Typhoid Remittent Fever, at his residence, "Mayfield," Prince William county, Va., on the 8th of June, 1873, Mr. JOHN HOOE, in the eighty-third year of his age.

This good and true man, firm in his purposes, gentle and urbane in his deportment, faithful in his friendship, and charitable in his judgments of the faults of others, died as he had lived, beloved by all who knew him. He was fully conscious of his approaching dissolution, and bidding each member of his family an affectionate farewell, he expressed a willingness to depart from the turmoil of earth, for a home in that Kingdom where sorrow pain and death never enter. His last words were, "Hallelujah, I am going home," and with a smile, he fell asleep, as we have every reason to believe, in the arms of his dear Saviour.

This poseth from our midst one of Prince William's oldest and noblest sons, whose whole life was exemplar of a true Virginia citizen and faithful friend. His hospitable doors were ever open to the needy and destitute, and by his goodness of heart he had attached a large circle of friends who mourn their loss. His bereaved family, which consists of a wife and twelve children, are left to mourn the loss of an affectionate and indulgent husband and father. We sincerely sympathize with the bereaved ones, and by his goodness of heart he had attached a large circle of friends who mourn their loss.
